Simplicity, community, nature, open-air cabins, family-style meals

Pottery, canoeing, hiking, archery, woodworking, crafts, singing & tetherball

Located on 162 hilly, wooded acres near Richland Center, Wisconsin, Camp Woodbrooke offers children the chance to practice life skills while enjoying summertime in the woods. Accountability, negotiation, independence and confidence-building are woven into peaceful days filled with fun outdoor activities. Campers thrive with our small 3:1 camper/staff ratio and choose their daily activities — nature walks, woodworking, pottery, archery, drama, cooking, wading in the creek, camp-outs and, of course, swimming! Listening to owls while falling asleep, the rustic setting and wholesome family-style meals help make the Camp Woodbrooke experience unique. Everyone shares in caring for the community by gardening, tending the animals, cleaning the shower house and keeping camp beautiful. For nearly 40 years, our Quaker-based leadership has emphasized peace, simplicity and stewardship for the Earth while offering children the chance to spend quality time in nature. Come, join us!

Because of camp...I know what community is.
